Fine Arts students at St. Mary Catholic Schools show a tremendous amount of courage. This past school year, our department overcame some of the greatest obstacles we have ever seen. SMCS was able to provide all art, music, and drama curriculum in the classroom throughout the entire school year. We also found ways to provide co-curricular activities such as a virtual fall drama, a filmed Christmas Concert Special featuring all 5 campuses, in-person spring musicals, art showcases for families, and video streaming for our larger community. Our staff's imagination and determination defines their commitment to excellence.

Our students' education was never put on hold; however, expenses were high in order to safely deliver high quality opportunities.

After this past year, we have an even better understanding of how our fine arts programs impact a student's personal well-being and how vital it is to their growth. Your engagement is a critical component to their success.
